CONSULTATION WILL DISCUSS EMERGENCY

President Giving Intense Study to Question of Declaration After Conference

BI - PARTISAN MEETING

Washington, Dec. 11 — (AP)—President Truman today gave intense study to the question of declaring a national emergency—possibly to be followed by wage-price controls—and asked both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to meet with him tomorrow.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was one of those invited to a White House meeting at 10 a. m. Tuesday. It was the first time Taft, head of the Senate GOP policy committee, has been brought into the emergency consultations since the Korean war.

A white house announcement said the congressional group was being called to the white house "to discuss matters concerning the proclaiming of a national emergency and related matters."

It added that the president "is particularly anxious now, as always, to continue and strengthen the Bi-Partisan approach to these matters."

Indications were piling up that the administration was swinging to the thought that action in the wage-price field must be taken without much further delay.

There were hints that something must be done before the week's end.

The white house said the questions of declaring a national emergency were discussed at a forenoon meeting of Mr. Truman and his democratic congressional lieutenants and would be gone over also at an afternoon meeting with top economic advisers.

Besides the afternoon meeting with economic advisers, Mr. Truman also scheduled a meeting with the national security council. This is his top advisory board of steps needed for defense of the nation.

Officials Making Excellent Progress In Organizing The Co. Civilian Defense Program

Over a hundred persons attended the public civil defense meeting Friday afternoon in the Warren County Court House. Judge Allison D. Wade, county coordinator, and W. F. Clinger, deputy coordinator, were in charge of the meeting at which division chiefs gave reports on the progress of their work in setting up the county civilian defense program.

Judge Wade, in opening the program, told the audience that the local plan is based on the Hopley report which was issued by the federal government after much study and research of civil defense problems. The judge stated that the local plan must be in-

(NEA Telephone)

Deputy Coordinator Clinger told the group that the defense council had been at work for many months preparing plans for local protection. He expressed disappointment at the turnout of the crowd but stated that the council has received fine cooperation from the county in their planning so far.

Mr. Clinger said that mutual aid is the basis for civilian defense. He stated that there is a place for everyone in the defense program and as an example remarked that there is a great need for auxiliary policemen, volunteer firemen, medical workers, and air raid wardens in every block and section of Warren county.

The deputy coordinator told the meeting that the local defense efforts are being worked out along these lines: 1. Because Warren county is a small rural section, it is assumed that an atom bomb will not be wasted on this county; 2. We are assuming that nearby areas of industrial centers may be target areas and Warren will be called on to take care of the victims from these bombed places; 3. Our local industry can expect sabotage and we must guard against this; 4. There is the possibility of germ warfare and we must be prepared for this type of attack.

In closing his remarks, Mr. Clinger reported that he had appointed P. C. Ostergard and Harry "Heggie" Schmidt as his assistants. Mr. Ostergard will have charge of organizing the boroughs and townships and Mr. Schmidt will assist in the administration of the overall pattern.

The division chiefs in charge of the eight divisions were then introduced by the deputy coordinator and they in turn gave reports and called on some of their aides.

H. L. Blair spoke for the educational and welfare division and Dr. Carl Whipple said that requests had been received from nine organizations for speakers to talk on civilian defense. He said speakers will be furnished to any group who wishes to learn about the local plans.

Sheriff L. E. Linder, in charge of the Securities Division called for reports from Erie Chief C. A. Albaugh, Gurney Ball, Cpl. Holmes of the state police, Police Chief Mike Ewan, Officer Ray Eckhardt, Doug Kropp, Ben Kinnear, David Crossett, Richard Costley, and Anton Vogler.

Lieutenant Evan proposed that all school children be finger printed for security reasons and Dr. Whipple and Mr. Blair said they would have no objections if parents would cooperate.

GOP REACHES NO DECISION ON ACHESON

Washington, Dec. 11—(AP)—Republican leaders failed today to reach any decision on a proposal by Senator Ives of New York that senate Republicans declare "no confidence" in Secretary of State Acheson and demand his immediate ouster.

In a closed door meeting, a four-man subcommittee of the senate Republican policy committee considered a resolution drafted by Ives calling for Acheson's removal. Ives told reporters afterward that they reached no conclusion at all.

"At this time it is utterly impossible to forecast what the outcome of these deliberations will be," the New York Republican said after the meeting in his office.

Other members of the subcommittee are Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the senate Republican leader; Senator Millikin of Colorado, the senate Republican conference chairman, and Senator H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey.

A resolution by Ives for Acheson's ouster was considered by senate Republican policy committee last week and then checked to the subcommittee for consideration. The subcommittee, in turn, is expected to make a recommendation to the 43 senators making up the GOP conference.

Ives said there would be no meeting of the conference until the subcommittee has finished its job. He said another subcommittee meeting will be held tomorrow, but that the exact time for it has not been set.

Safety Record During Hunting Season In Warren Area Is Best In Recent Years

Two minor shooting accidents marred the final days of Pennsylvania's 1950 deer season, but the safety record for the season in the Warren area was the best in years.

It was the first time in many seasons that there were no shooting fatalities, although an Emlenton man died of a heart attack in Youngsville Saturday night after being out hunting all day.

Two Sharon youths also are in Warren General Hospital, suffering from exposure and frozen feet after being lost in the woods for two nights.

First of the shooting accidents occurred Friday afternoon at the Clinton Thorp camp near Scandia. Game Protector Dave Titus and Warren General Hospital, a hunter, George Steig, was unloading his rifle on the porch of the camp when the weapon accidentally discharged. The bullet struck the heel of Milton Ayers, 41, of Erie, another member of the party.

Ayers was taken to Warren General Hospital where he received emergency treatment, and was sent home.

Second of the shooting accidents also involved an Erie district resident, Kenneth Kent, 16. He was shot in the hip while hunting near Clarendon Saturday afternoon.

Kent said he was shot when another hunter's glove caught on the trigger of a rifle. A physician at Warren General Hospital described the injury as a "nasty flesh wound" and said the youth was extremely lucky he did not lose a leg. After receiving treatment at the hospital, he was removed to the Pettit nursing home at Stoneham, and then taken to Erie Sunday.

General States U. N. Forces Remain Unbeaten and Able To Battle Chinese Hordes

Tokyo, Dec. 11 (AP)—General MacArthur flew to Korea today for a hard look at his heavily-battled United Nations command. He said it remains unbeaten, relatively secure, and able to battle the Chinese hordes.

His secret visit to both the northwest and northeast fronts came as the last elements of 25,000 bone-cold unshaven American Marines and Doughboys streamed down onto the Hamhung coastal plain from a series of Red traps near Changjin reservoir.

A huge fleet stood off Hamhung's port of Hungnam. But whether it would evacuate the weary outnumbered U S 10th corps units in the northeast remained to be seen. The northwest front was relatively quiet.

There was a note of guarded optimism in MacArthur's statement to correspondents after he returned to Tokyo from his quick trip to the warfronts. He had conferred on-the-spot with his top generals.

"The United Nations command, in spite of its recent heavy fighting, is in excellent shape with high morale and conspicuous self confidence," the U. N. commander said. "Although heavily outnumbered it has come through in a superior manner."

"The enemy's claims of United Nations losses in men and material are fantastically exaggerated. We are being forced to give ground but our fighting capacity has suffered little general impairment."

He added that the Chinese Reds had failed in a plan "to encompass our destruction by one massive stroke."

"All our units are intact and the losses inflicted on the enemy have been staggering—estimated by local commandants in the field as high as 10 to one compared to our own," MacArthur said.

It was evident that MacArthur was concerned seriously about the condition of his forces, particularly the U. S. First Marine Division and units of the Army's Seventh Infantry Division which battled through a frozen, Chinese-lined hell for two weeks on both sides and south of the Changjin reservoir in northeast Korea.

A Marine spokesman said the last elements of the 25,000-man escape force completed the hazardous, winding descent from snow-bound mountains ringing the big hydroelectric reservoir to the coastal plain leading to Hamhung.

The bitter 50-mile retreat—the longest and one of few in the history of the spirited Marine Corps—began Nov. 28. The spokesman estimated the Leathernecks alone killed 15,000 Chinese in breaking through the series of traps.

A Marine medical officer compared the Leatherneck casualties to those the Corps suffered in taking the tiny atoll of Tarawa in World War II—3,168 men. But total Marine and Doughboy casualties were higher.

AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth, the only wire service newsman who was with the trapped force, said more than 4,000 wounded were flown from the snow-mantled airstrip at Koto until two days before the final breakout drive.

Most of the wounded were Marines. There was no estimate of (Turn to Page Five)

India's Plan For Ending Korean War Will Be Unveiled

Lake Success, Dec. 11—(AP)—India's Sir Benegal N. Rau is expected to reveal a new plan for peace in Korea at the United Nations today.

Rau told newsmen last night that he has been authorized to draft a "Peace Resolution" by the 13 Asian countries which appealed to Communist China last week not to cross the 38th parallel.

It will contain a proposal for an immediate cease fire by both sides in Korea and certain other propositions which Rau declined to disclose in advance.

Representatives of the 13 countries meet here at noon. Rau said details would be made public then.

It is widely expected that on proposal will be the creation of a demilitarized zone between the belligerents to avoid incidents. Another might be a request that the U. S. and the People's Communist government agree to direct negotiations for a Korean settlement.

The U. S. so far has refused to deal with Peiping in such a way as to imply recognition of it as a legal government.

Inclusion of a proposal for direct negotiations—instead of through the UN—might be one of the "objectionable qualifications" which the State Department said yesterday it would oppose in a cease-fire resolution.

"Except for such 'qualifications,'" the department said, it would not object—at least in theory—to such a plan.

Rau said he had not discussed his ideas with the Americans and had no idea whether they would support his move. He also said he did not know whether the Chinese Reds would agree to any plan he might propose.

New Controversy Stirs Around Filling Attorney General Post In Fine Cabinet

Harrisburg, Dec. 11—(AP)—A new controversy stirred around Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti today—his possible reappointment by Governor-Elect John S. Fine and an expected fight in the senate over confirmation.

The report that Fine may retain Margiotti as the commonwealth's chief legal official developed in the wake of the Pennsylvania Society dinner at New York Saturday night.

It followed another report that Fine had offered the post to Judge Claude T. Reno, Allentown, of the state superior court, and that Reno had declined. Reno was attorney general during the administration of former Governor Arthur H. James.

A big barrier against Margiotti's appointment, however, would be the political lineup of 30 Republicans and 20 Democrats in the senate (with four Democratic votes needed to confirm gubernatorial appointments).

Democrats during the recent political campaign were critical of Margiotti's grand jury investigation of the Democratic administration of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county.

16 Injured Slightly In Derailment Of Pennsy Passenger

Sunbury, Dec. 11 — (AP) — A northbound Pennsylvania passenger train crashed into a landslide on the tracks at nearby Fittler early today. Four crewmen and 12 passengers were injured, none seriously.

Four cars and the locomotive of the Harrisburg-to-Erie train were derailed blocking both tracks of the Buffalo branch.

The four crewmen were taken to the Sunbury hospital. The 12 passengers were treated for injuries at the scene and continued to their destination.

The derailment occurred at 1:42 a. m. to passenger train no. 581. Susquehanna division officials at Williamsport said the train ran into a slide from the mountain-side.

Crewmen were taken to the Sunbury hospital. Four physicians and five ambulances were summoned to the scene, about 15 miles south of Sunbury.

Railroad officials said the shale, loosened by snow from the mountain-side, covered the rails of both tracks to a depth of five to eight feet for a distance of about 45 feet.

The derailed cars were the baggage car, a coach, combination passenger baggage car, and cafe-coach. Four sleeping cars remained on the tracks.

Train no. 575 enroute to Buffalo, which followed the derailed train, took the sleeping cars back to Harrisburg and then detoured to Buffalo by way of Lock Haven and Renovo.

Passengers for Sunbury, Milton and Williamsport were taken to their destination by bus.

Railroad officials said one track was expected to be open about (Turn to Page Five)

Two Crashes Are Investigated By Local State Police

State Police were called out to investigate two accidents over the week-end, neither of which resulted in any personal injuries, but accounted for about $1,000 in property damage.

At 3 a. m. Saturday, a car operated by Leonard C. Biggs, of Sugar Grove, ran off the road on Route 69 near Chandler's Valley when Biggs swerved to miss a truck parked without lights. The car went into the ditch and struck a telephone pole. Damage was estimated at $300.

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, a three-way accident took place at the intersection of the Scandia-Coalbed road, about one-half mile this side of Scandia.

Cars involved were operated by Karl J. Nicholson, 204 McPherson street, and Leroy Flasher, of Sigsbee.

The body was removed to the Criswell Funeral Home at Emlenton, where services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Winkler leaves his wife, Mertie, six sons and daughters, Mrs. Harry Harris of Youngsville, Roy Winkler of Lamartine, Mrs. Cleo McCauley of Poca, W. Va., Mrs. Albert Myers of Bradford, and Harold and Herman Winkler, both of Emlenton R. D., a brother, Charles, of Shippensburg R. D., 19 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

He was a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Shippensburg, and the Order of the Maccabees.

The two Sharon youths who were lost in the woods for two days and two nights were Robert Giege, 19, and Roger Magee, 21.

The youths went into the woods near Tidouite on Thursday and became lost as they tracked a wounded deer through the woods. They kept going after they discovered they were lost, because that was their only way to keep warm.

A rain had soaked the woods. They walked and jogged their feet to get warm.

Friday they were hungry and cold and still lost. They kept walking without sighting any hunters or habitation. That night they were able to find dry fuel and had a fire.

TRUMAN LETTER MAY BE SOLD FOR CHARITY

Washington, Dec. 11—(AP)—Some charity may be the winner in the disagreement between President Truman and music critic Paul Hume over Margaret Truman's singing ability.

Hume, critic for the Washington Post, said last night he has had several offers for the letter, in which Mr. Truman threatened to beat him up for writing that Margaret sang flat in a local concert.

He hasn't made up his mind whether to sell the letter or not, Hume said, but if he does the proceeds will go to charity.

Polio Group Says Funds Exhausted

Warren County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis held its December meeting Friday at the Blue and White restaurant.

Andrew Nelson, the treasurer, reported a balance of $140 in the bank and unpaid bills for polio care amounting to $2653.

Mrs. Margaret Lewis, chapter chairman, stated the National Foundation has also exhausted its funds and no money can be obtained from it.

Meanwhile, the Warren Zonta club is conducting an emergency campaign to raise money for the polio bills. Martha Topper, secretary of the Polio Chapter, said Zonta members have already turned over the first funds from the emergency collection.

One new polio case for the month was reported by L. N. Donaldson, chairman of the case committee. He said the patient is covered by polio insurance thus causing no expense to the chapter.

The monthly meeting date was changed to the first Thursday in the month.

Prospects of More Snow Prompt New Warnings To Motorists To Take It Easy

More snow was forecast for much of Pennsylvania today, prompting renewed warning to motorists to take it easy on the highways, or better still, stay off them altogether.

Many roads were made hazardous by yesterday's light snowfall, combined in some parts of the state with rain, sharp winds and a glaze of ice.

State police headquarters at Harrisburg reported the Pennsylvania turnpike was very slippery east and west of the capital and that during the night drivers did little more than inch their cars along. All other roads in the central part of the state were said to be coated with ice.

The weather bureau said accumulated snowfall was expected to be (Turn to Page Five)

Cut On Use of Natural Rubber For New Auto Tires Is Ordered by Government

Washington, Dec. 11—(AP)—The government today ordered a cut on the use of natural rubber in new automobile tires.

The National Production Authority announced that in January and February manufacturers must reduce the consumption of natural rubber by 28 per cent from November levels.

The November quota set by NPA under a previous order was 52,000 tons of natural rubber. The total amount of consumption of both natural and synthetic rubber for the month was 90,000 tons.

NPA said its January and February quotas—despite the reduction in natural rubber uses—still remains at approximately 90,000 tons. The cut-back in natural rubber allotments will be made up (Turn to Page Five)

DUST AND SNOW
An Open Letter To The U. N.

An A. P. correspondent wrote about it
And I saw the pallor of death
On his companion's face
From where he stood in the jeep
That inched its way along:
There was dust and snow, dust
and snow.

He wrote about retreat.
Twelve hours of it,
And it was chaos,
Blood and sound,
And the silence of Death
I remember now, there was dust
and snow.

He wrote about defense
In defeat, new lines of men
And I wondered, if here,
We understood
Or the U. N. . .
Over it all there was dust and
snow.

They were two men in a jeep
Fulfilling a mission
That you, that I
Might know by today's press
That life still breathed,
In Korea, and in the dust and snow.

A man wrote about it among males
While the U. N.
Debated. Debate does not Succeed defeat and frozen feet
In the snow, and,
There was dust and snow, dust
and snow.

Chautauqua Lake Has First Skating Fatality of Season

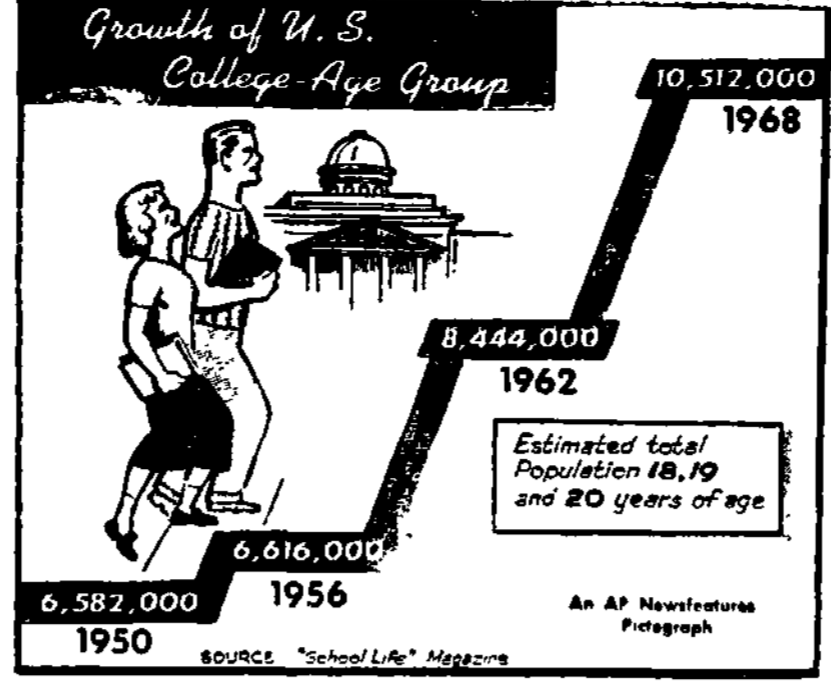

Jamestown, Dec. 11—Dr. Henry D. Marritt, 54, of Ashville, drowned about 5:50 p. m. Sunday when he crashed through thin ice near the Packard estate at Lakewood.

The prominent psychiatrist, who maintained offices in this city and had been connected with Gowanda State Hospital at Helmsport for 17 years, met death as he was skating with his son, Peter, 11.

Dr. Marritt was skating about 200 feet from shore when he broke through the ice. He shouted to Peter, skating on sound ice some distance away, to run for help. The doctor continued to shout for help and Vern Nelson, of Shady-side avenue, Lakewood, turned in an alarm to the Lakewood Fire Department.

The Lakewood Rescue Unit responded at 5:45 p. m. and located the physician's body after placing ladders across the ice and maneuvering a rowboat to the hole where Dr. Marritt had by that time disappeared. The doctor's hat still was floating on the surface.

Firemen, led by Chief Carl Han-nigan, probed in about 14 feet of water and located the body in five minutes. Dr. Marritt had been in the water about 50 minutes when the firemen located the body. No attempt at artificial respiration

IS TRANSFERRED
Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Myers, of Youngsville, have received word that their son, Marshall, assigned to the USS Klensmith for several years, has been transferred to Guantanamo Bay naval base for land duty. He flew to his new assignment from Norfolk, Va., and expects to be there about a year.

GOES TO ARIZONA
Pfc Ernest H. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Peterson, Youngsville RD 1, has completed his training at Tyndall Air Force Base in Florida and is spending a ten-day leave with his parents before reporting for his new assignment at Williams Air Force Base in Arizona for active duty with the Air Police.

ASSISTANCE DROP
Pennsylvania's general assistance rolls continued to drop through November, with a total of 3,073 persons taken off the list. This latest decrease was the 17th consecutive half-month decline in the rolls and brought the total reduction to nearly 162,000 persons. Department of Public Assistance officials attribute the drop principally to employment gains. Warren county lists 267 cases numbering 354 persons.

MAY NOT GET LEAVES
The holiday hopes of some seventy local servicemen who left Warren with Company I have been chilled by the Army's edict cancelling all Christmas furloughs for GI's Officials of the 28th Division at Camp Atterbury where the Guardsmen are in training said over the weekend no substitute policy will be announced until official orders arrive from Washington but he added "a few" soldiers may be able to go home on the three day passes. While there was no mention of the reason for cancelling the yuletide furloughs, Army officials indicated the action came because of the reversals the U. S. armed forces are suffering in Korea and because of the need for a stepped up training program in the nation's Army camps.

HIGH PRICE TAGS ON NEW PONTIACS
Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 11—(P)—Pontiac Motors' 1951 model autos, introduced today, carry price tags $20 to $80 higher than the 1950 models.

Announcing this the company said the $20 increase will go on the station wagon, a $60 advance on the Catalina or so-called "hard-top" model and $80 increase on other de luxe units. No change is being made in the price of the hydra-matic transmission, optional equipment on all models.

Pontiac is the second General Motors division to announce price increases. The increases were decided upon despite the request of the Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) that GM and Ford cancel the increases until the agency could study the price situation.

Ford already has advanced its car prices from $87.50 on its Ford models, to $165 on its Lincoln Cosmo-politans.

Masonic Lodges In Warren Planning For St. John's Day

A joint committee from North Star Lodge No. 241, and Joseph Warren Lodge No. 726, Free And Accepted Masons, completed plans for the annual observance of St. John's Day, which will be held his year on Friday evening, December 29, instead of the usual late because of the grand lodge activities scheduled in Philadelphia on the 27th.

The program will start at 7:30 'clock on the evening of the 29th, and will include the presentation of jewels to retiring masters of both North Star and Joseph Warren lodges, William H. Wood and Henry Peterson, respectively. The Rev. Dr. Robert S. Steen, of the First Presbyterian church, will be master of ceremonies, and the principal address will be delivered by the Rev. G. Mason Cochran, grand chaplain, of Oil City. A buffet luncheon will be served during the evening. Tickets for the event are on sale at the Masonic Temple in Liberty street, from members of the committee and officers of the two lodges.

K. of C. Members And Daughters At Breakfast Meeting

Over two hundred Knights with their daughters attended a special mass at St. Joseph's Church Sunday and received Holy Communion in a body. Mass for the special occasion was celebrated by Redemptious Father Edward A. Droxler from San Domingo, Latin America.

After receiving Holy Communion the knights with their daughters, and guests were served breakfast at the council rooms by lady knights. John Zolko, chairman of the program, turned the emceeing over to Nick Mangus. After calling on various members for remarks, he introduced Charles Tranter. Charles entertained the daughters with several clever acts of magic. Then Redemptious Father Droxler was called upon for a little talk. Father Droxler just back from San Domingo, a foreign mission assignment, gave in detail the purpose of why we have missions in foreign lands, and then went on to picture the life in the Latin Americas, elaborating on the habits, daily happenings, modes of transportation, and finally reminding all that we should be thankful that we are living in these United States. His little talk ended with a plea for prayer for the Missionaries and the unfortunate peoples of the world.

The lady knights serving breakfast were: Mrs. John Schmatz, Bertha Kamen, Leona Blastic, Minnie Gerardi, Rose Gerardi, Margaret Owen, Caroline Musante, Frances Lucia, Pruetty Cosmano, Angie Hollingshead.

SLAVERS
Prior to the Civil War, several thousand Negroes owned slaves. Most of these were free Negroes, who purchased relatives or family members to release them from bondage, making them slave owners technically.

SURVIVAL UNDER ATOMIC ATTACK

Reprint of an official government booklet on the dangers of the A-Bomb and how to meet them, submitted by the Publicity Committee of the Warren County Civil Defense Council.

(Editor's Note—Following is the first of a series of articles setting forth the dangers of the atomic bomb and how steps can be taken to escape them. The articles are from an official U. S. government booklet, "Survival Under Atomic Attack.")

You can live through an atomic bomb raid and you won't have to have a Geiger counter, protective clothing, or special training in order to do it.

The secrets of survival are: Know the bomb's true dangers; know the steps you can take to escape them.

To begin with, you must realize that atom-splitting is just another way of causing an explosion. While an atom bomb holds more death and destruction than man ever before wrapped in a single package, its total power is definitely limited. Not even hydrogen bombs could blow the earth apart or kill us all by mysterious radiation.

Because the power of all bombs is limited, your chances of living through an atomic attack are much better than you may have thought. In the city of Hiroshima, slightly over half the people who were a mile from the atomic explosion are still alive. At Nagasaki, almost 70 per cent of the people a mile from the bomb lived to tell their experiences. Today thousands of survivors of these two atomic attacks live in new houses built right where their old ones once stood. The war may have changed their way of life, but they are not riddled with cancer. Their children are normal. Those who were temporarily unable to have children because of the radiation now are having children again.

If a modern A-bomb exploded without warning in the air over your home town tonight, your calculated chances of living through the raid would run something like this:

Should you happen to be one of the unlucky people right under the bomb, there is practically no hope of living through it. In fact, anywhere within one-half mile of the center of explosion, your chances of escaping are about 1 out of 10.

On the other hand, and this is the important point, from one-half to 1 mile away, you have a 50-50 chance.

From 1 to 1 1/4 miles out, the odds that you will be killed are only 15 in 100.

And at points from 1 1/4 to 2 miles away, deaths drop all the way down to only 2 or 3 of each 100.

Beyond 2 miles, the explosion will cause practically no deaths at all.

Naturally, your chances of being injured are far greater than your chances of being killed. But even injury by radioactivity does not mean that you will be left a cripple, or doomed to die an early death. Your chances of making a complete recovery are much the same as for everyday accident. These estimates hold good for modern atomic bombs exploded without warning.

Do not be misled by loose talk of imaginary weapons a hundred or a thousand times as powerful. All cause destruction by exactly the same means, yet one 20,000-ton bomb would not create nearly as much damage as 10,000 two-ton bombs dropped a little distance apart. This because the larger bombs "waste" too much power near the center of the explosion. From the practical point of view, it doesn't matter whether a building near the center of the explosion is completely vaporized or whether it is simply knocked into a pile of rubble.

To be more specific, a modern atomic bomb can do heavy damage to houses and buildings roughly 2 miles away. But doubling its power will extend the range damage to only about 2 1/2 miles. In

For Years of Happier Cooking

SEE the New Gas Ranges at Your Gas Range Dealer

For years of happier cooking see the smart new Gas ranges now on display at your gas range dealers. They will give you the last word in modern automatic cookery. The new gas ranges cook entire meals—when you're miles away—by clock control. Clean and cool, the new gas range offers dozens of heats tailored to every cooking job. The wonder flame that cools as well as heats

Goble Cannon, 1105 Herbert St., St. Louis, Mo., says in this day and age it doesn't matter how old you are—it is how young you feel. Mr. Cannon says he's seen a lot of these young, high powered fellows just burn themselves out, while folks that know how to live, never seemed to get old. Mr. Cannon says that since he has been taking HADACOL he feels as spry as a 16-year-old. Mr. Cannon found he was suffering a deficiency of Vitamin B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Mr. Cannon was very proud to give us this statement. "My job as crossing watchman for the Washash Railroad keeps me in one place and I don't have a chance to get much exercise. I seem to get gas on my stomach and then I lose my appetite. Many times I have had nervous spells and been unable to sleep at night. Then one day I heard how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. Now the gas on my stomach has vanished, my appetite is first rate and I get a good night's sleep and those nervous spells? I very seldom have them any more at all. I think HADACOL is mighty fine—just look what it has done for me."

The most important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to get right to work. HADACOL helps build up blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Remember
HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), as well as that general run-down condition and vague aches and pains when they are due to a lack of Vitamin B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in your system.

HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL. Don't go through life suffering those vague aches and pains if caused by such deficiencies when relief may be as close at hand as the nearest drug store for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Copyright 1950, The LeBlanc Corporation the same way, if there were a bomb 100 times as powerful, it would reach out only a little more and 4 1/2, not 100 times as far.

And remember: All these calculations of your chance of survival assume that you have absolutely no advance warning of the attack.

Just like fire bombs and ordinary high explosives, atomic weapons cause most of their death and damage by blast and heat. So first let's look at a few things you can do to escape these two dangers.

Even if you have only a second's warning, there is one important thing you can do to lessen your chances of injury by blast: Fall flat on your face.

More than half of all wounds are the result of being bodily tossed about or being struck by falling and flying objects. If you lie down flat, you are least likely to be thrown about. If you have time to pick a good spot, there is less chance of your being struck by flying glass and other things.

If you are inside a building, the best place to flatten out is against the cellar wall. If you haven't time to get down there, lie down along an inside wall, or duck under a bed or table. But don't pick a spot right opposite the windows or you are almost sure to be pelted with shattered glass.

If caught out-of-doors, either drop down alongside the base of a good substantial building—avoid flimsy, wooden ones likely to be blown over on top of you—or else jump in any hard ditch or gutter.

When you fall flat to protect yourself from a bombing, don't look up to see what is coming. Even during the daylight hours, the flash from a bursting A-bomb can cause several moments of blindness, if you're facing that way. To prevent it, bury your face in your arms and hold it there for 10 or 12 seconds after the explosion. That will also help to keep flying glass and other things out of your eyes.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Thanks to the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a group of electrical workers and linemen, plus the whole-hearted cooperation of public officials, business men and citizens generally, Warren this year is decorated as never before for the holiday season.

It is pleasing to note that the Retailers have a tidy surplus for next year, after financing the erection of the attractive carnival lights at a dozen street intersections.

It will surprise many to learn that the lighting project involved an expenditure of approximately $1,500, in addition to contributions of labor, trucks, etc. Over two dozen members of two electrical unions donated services to erect the lights, and have already volunteered similar service when it comes time to take them down. The wire, lamps, etc., were supplied by C. Beckley, Inc., at cost; the power is prepaid on the basis of 1465 (25w) lamps in use six hours a day from November 24 to January first. "The Warren Retailer" in its report of the project says: "The fact that there is a surplus is definitely due to the donated services of the men belonging to Locals 174 and 1124. We are indebted to the police department for their services in turning the lights on and off at the proper time. There are fourteen switches involved, scattered throughout the business section." Trucks were furnished, the pamphlet reminds, by C. Beckley, Inc., Pennsylvania Electric Co., and Schaeffer Electric Co.

In the meantime the Jaycees have been busy repairing and refurbishing the numerous large displays that have excited so many generous compliments the past two years, and it will be glad tidings for residents to observe that the huge greeting sign in Crescent Park spells out the word "Christmas" instead of the abbreviated form.

LONGEVITY IN UNITED STATES

Longevity in the United States is close to the best in the world, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The gains since the beginning of the century have been greater in our country than in Australia and New Zealand, world leaders with respect to longevity.

In 1901-1910, average length of life in the United States was about 6 years less than in Australia and 9 years less than in New Zealand, the statisticians point out. By 1947, expectation of life for Americans was within three-fourths of a year of Australia's and one and three-fourths years of New Zealand's. Figures for the United States are based on white population for comparability with those of the two other countries.

"The expectation of life at birth in our country increased 16 years for males and 18 years for females since 1901-1910," the statisticians note. "In Australia the corresponding gains were 11 and 12 years, and in New Zealand a little over 9 years and 10 1/2 years."

Over-all mortality in the United States is somewhat higher than in Australia and New Zealand, but at some ages we do better than they, according to the statisticians.

The United States has a lower death rate than Australia for a number of the important infectious diseases, including the principal communicable diseases of childhood, tuberculosis, and influenza and pneumonia. On the other hand, we have a higher death rate from the diseases common in middle and later life, such as the heart diseases and cancer, and from accidents.

NATION LOSES FINE SERVANT

Few people in the country can imagine how great a strain is placed upon a presidential press secretary like Charlie Ross, who died at his post just the other day.

The president, of course, is the prime news source in the entire world. When he speaks, it's news everywhere, almost automatically. For that reason, he must exercise extreme care in what he says either in off-the-cuff comment in news conferences or in formal statements.

The press secretary is one of those on whom falls the burden of deciding what ought to be said and how; of measuring what the effect of particular words will be upon the nation and the world. It is an awesome task.

The nation owes an extreme debt to Charlie Ross. He served courageously and well, often under the most trying circumstances.

An English doctor contends that American girls work too much. And sometimes too many!

In the City League bowling averages, it is found that Frank Faldale and Curley Fischer head the list with 194 each. Frank Rossell, with 191 and Jap Lynch with 190, are next in line. Graebner has an average of 181.

The Christmas lighting system which has become a feature of the holidays in Warren, will be cut in this afternoon at a little before five o'clock. There are more than 300 colored lights attached to the wires which are stretched on Pennsylvania avenue, both east and west, Hickory street, Liberty street and Second avenue. Over a mile of wire was used for the illumination and the bulbs are twenty inches apart.

The hook and ladder truck was called out this morning to rescue a cat which had become stranded on a little island located back of the Soldiers Monument. The cat was black, and according to ancient superstition, members of the rescue crew should have good luck for 99 years.

Regular Price Trends In Many Retail Foods During Week Revealed By Survey

By The Associated Press

Price trends in retail foods were regular this week. Pork items and broiling and frying chickens were lower in most places, along with several fruits and vegetables, while beef cuts and eggs turned higher.

Many foods were edging upward at the wholesale level and the mark-ups appeared likely to be reflected in stores in the next few weeks.

The Dun Bradstreet wholesale food index made its sharpest jump this week since late August, rising 10 cents to $6.77—highest in more than two years. The index represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Several cuts of pork eased two to six cents a pound in competitive stores across the nation as supplies continued liberal. Small chickens were unchanged to about four cents a pound lower. The upward changes in beef items were restricted to a few cents a pound in most cases. But advances in top grade eggs ranged as high as eight cents a dozen with demand reported to be unusually good.

Heavy receipts of lettuce pushed prices lower in most markets. Also lower-priced in produce departments: Apples, carrots, pascal celery, eggplant, western grapes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes and most citrus fruits.

Cold weather in some important winter crop areas of Florida and other states damaged a few vegetables like beans and caused price rises in far-distant markets. New cabbage, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, onions, peas and summer-type squash all were a little higher.

The first Texas beets and spinach of the season arrived in Atlantic seaboard markets this week, and the first Florida celery reached distant cities.

A spokesman for the national cannery association told a pickers convention at Atlantic City there is little chance of a shortage of canned food for civilians, even with military buying heavy.

Joseph F. Hauck, extension marketing specialist at Rutgers University, predicted larger national crops of peaches, pears, grapes and strawberries for next year, but said surveys indicate apple and sour cherry production may be smaller. He added that fruit prices in general would hold about the same levels as this year even though overall output would probably be larger, because demand for fruits would be spurred by high consumer income and military requirements.

The agriculture department headlined frying and broiling chickens and honey on this week's list of plentiful foods for thrifty buying.

Fried chicken once was pretty much of a summertime dish and tender young broilers were a delicacy available only during early summer, the department said. However, thanks to better breeding, better feeding and commercial production, consumers now can get all kinds of chicken at virtually any time of the year. And right now the young chickens are in good supply.

As for honey, this year's output is estimated to be three per cent more than last year—and stocks are the largest since records were begun in 1942.

Officials Making Excellent Progress In Organizing Co. Civilian Defense Program

Progress of the work of the communications division and Commissioner George Seavy reported for the Utilities, Transportation, and Industries division.

Division 5 is in charge of Dr. A. F. Yerg who stated that the medical society was cooperating in the plan and that surgical teams had been established. He said that surveys had disclosed that there are about 4,000 bed sites available and that it is hoped to train women in medical care.

District Attorney M. A. Kornreich is chairman of the Evacuation and Dispersal division. He reported that space is being provided for evacuees and that the county has been surveyed for space in all buildings, hunting camps and even homes would be included. Otto Mayer of Sheffield spoke about his division, the Technical division; and Attorney Knox Harper reported for the Auxiliary Division.

B. S. Knabenshue, reporting for the Red Cross, said his organization is experiencing difficulty in securing volunteers to help in first aid, and enroll for the course of instructions available. He also said the Blood program is lagging 300 per cent in the county, and 2,000 names of donors are needed at the present time. Mr. Knabenshue is hopeful that the needed assistance will be forthcoming, and urges all interested to contact Red Cross headquarters either by phone or in person.

Safety Record During Hunting Season

hunters from Massillon, Ohio, headed by Martin Rand, found the two Sharon youths in Wildcat Hollow about five miles off the Hearts Content road. The Ohio hunters took the youths to the William Liberty residence on the Warren-Tidewater road where they called an ambulance.

The two were too sick Saturday to be questioned about their ordeal, but yesterday they looked a little better and could tell a little concerning their long trek.

Their parents had expected them home Friday and by that night began to be uneasy about the hunters' safety. Saturday, the father of one, John Grega intended to fly up in the airplane he owns and search the area from the air, but a telephone call from the hospital reached him before he could take to the air.

Grega and Magee had parked their car near where they entered the woods.

At the hospital, constant massage and ice packs were used for five hours and it was reported that some sensation gradually returned to their feet. It will be sometime, however, before it will be known whether it will be necessary to amputate any of the toes.

Another hunter was lost near Kinzua Saturday night, but he turned up safely Sunday, little the worse for his experience. He was Gerald Christie, 27, of Erie.

In the Corry area, Henry L. Jaquith, 52, of Columbus, R. D. 1, was hit Friday in the left leg by a rifle slug fired at a bounding deer. He was taken to the Corry Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from shock and loss of blood. He was given emergency treatment, and then removed to the care of a bone specialist.

Game Protector Titus reported there were fewer hunters in the woods this season, and that the deer kill will be the lightest in years.

The hunters coming out of the woods at the season's close Saturday at 5 o'clock caused a traffic jam along Pennsylvania avenue that lasted for nearly two hours. Local restaurants were jammed and telephone circuits were kept busy.

John Orbanic, of Pittsfield, set some kind of a record Saturday when he shot a buck. It was the 23rd consecutive season in which he has felled a deer.

Barbara Ann Linder, Warren high school sophomore, also was among the successful nimrods, getting a nice eight-point buck Saturday. She is the daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. L. E. Linder.

Chief Cornplanter Legion Auxiliary Makes Plans for Holiday Activities

Chief Cornplanter Unit 135, American Legion Auxiliary, has plans in progress to substantially assist in the extensive program of bringing Christmas cheer to the hearts of all hospitalized veterans, families of veterans, needy children or shut-in Auxiliary members.

In a recent meeting, the membership voted a contribution in support of the National Legion and Auxiliary Christmas Package Program, which will be personally supervised in each state by the department commander and auxiliary president; also a gift of money to be used by the auxiliary hospital chairmen serving Aspinwall and Deshon hospitals.

Members of the local unit have been asked to bake cookies as part of the refreshments to be served the veterans at Warren State Hospital on the occasion of the auxiliary Christmas party to be held in the hospital chapel Thursday evening, December 21. The affair will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ella Wallace, who, with her committee, will present an evening of entertainment and deliver gifts.

It was decided to discontinue the monthly notice to each member. However, the annual booklet will be printed and available soon to everyone who has paid her 1951 dues. This will continue to give the program for each meeting throughout the year, listing the chairmen and their committees in each instance.

Mrs. Hazel Patchen, president, and Mrs. John Dahler, membership chairman, urge all eligible women to support the vast auxiliary programs by joining and renewing membership by paying dues promptly. With Korean Casualties pouring into all veterans' facilities, the need is increasing more rapidly than adequate provision can be established.

The membership voted to continue the policy of holding only one meeting in December, this to be held at the Legion Home on Tuesday evening, December 19, in the form of a Christmas party. Mrs. John Dahler will be chairman of decorations, Mrs. Milton Witz in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Boris Waxman arranging the program. Members are reminded to bring a small gift for exchange and a gift for the sunshine basket which will be packed and delivered to Mrs. Marian McMillan, chairman of cards and flowers. Each active member was requested to call inactive members and urge their attendance.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to thank all my friends who sent cards and flowers to me while I was in the hospital.

Mrs. Esther White.

Large white daisies and palms decorated the altar of Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Marianne Heimann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Heimann, 121 North Parker street, and Keith R. Nicholson, son of Mrs. Alice Nicholson, North Warren.

Dr. A. B. McCormick, retired Presbyterian minister and great-uncle of the bridegroom, performed the three o'clock ceremony. Wedding music was provided by Eleanor Swanson, organist, and Richard Smith, vocalist.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a long gown of white satin, styled with lace inserts in the bodice. Her veil was of matching white lace and white roses covered the white Bible which she carried. Attending her were Patricia Allmendinger as maid of honor and Dorothy Anderson, bridesmaid. Their frocks were of pale green and red satin, respectively, with headbands of matching color, and their colonial bouquets were of gold-colored mums.

J. A. Blomquist, North Warren, was best man for his nephew and ushers were Elwyn A. Babcock, Theodore Faust, and Paul Fernan, Buffalo.

Mrs. Heimann chose a black frock with green and white trim and Mrs. Nicholson had white accessories with a Queen Elizabeth blue dress.

Guests numbering 100 attended the reception which followed in the church parlors at four o'clock. Mrs. Albert Schumann and Mrs. Clara Kohler, aunts of the bride, presided at a table attractively centered with a tiered wedding cake encircled with white pom-poms.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Buffalo. For traveling, the bride selected a maroon colored suit with contrasting navy blue accessories. She was graduated from Warren High School in 1948 and until recently was employed in the record room of Warren General Hospital.

Mr. Nicholson, graduate of the local high school and of Bryant-Stratton Business Institute in Buffalo, is employed in that city by the McDonald Products Company.

Children Should Feel Confident Of Their Parents' Support

"OUR daughter who is only 18 is going away to school next semester. The only thing that worries me is the fear that if she should get into any kind of trouble or need our help she would be afraid or ashamed to tell us."

The fear of the mother who wrote those words is shared by many parents who see their children leave home for the first time.

One father I know about eased that fear somewhat by telling each of his children privately when they left home for the first time: "If you are ever in any kind of trouble—tell me right away. I'll keep your confidence, and I'll help you work things out."

"And remember this: there is nothing you could possibly do that would make me love you less. So you don't need to be afraid of shocking or hurting me."

That, it seems to me, is about the most a parent can do to give a child the idea that though he is out in the world on his own, he still has someone to turn to in time of trouble. And that he needn't be afraid to take his problem to whichever parent gives him that kind of assurance of understanding.

Knowing that there is always someone he can turn to means real security for the son or daughter who is taking the first steps toward independence.

THEY NEED ASSURANCE

THE young people who get in really serious trouble are the ones who figure they can't tell their parents what they are up against and must work things out by themselves.

Lacking the wisdom that comes only from experience, they often get into worse difficulties trying to solve a problem that might have been worked out satisfactorily with an older person's help.

Give your daughter the assurance that you're on her side no matter what, and if she ever needs your help with a problem, she won't be afraid to let you know about it.

Pleasing Program By Choir Ensemble

Along about this time of year reports of most group gatherings include some mention of carols or other special Christmas music. This was particularly so in the case of the December meeting of Home Street school's Mothers Club.

Directed by Carroll Fowler, an ensemble from the High School A Cappella Choir presented a beautiful program of holiday selections. In the group were eight girls and eight boys: Geraldine Aquist, Ann Rydholm, June Sadler, Beverly Taft, sopranos; Ann Dalrymple, Donna Lee Casler, Catherine Musante, Sally Reed, altos; James Cooney, Richard Confer, Jeremy Fisher, Kenneth Williams, tenors; Martin Carlson, Aner Carlstrom, Alfred Moore, Johan Stohl, basses.

They opened their program with selections from "The Shepherds' Christmas" by M. Luvaas, with Stavroula Fanos playing their accompaniment. Solo part were taken by Geraldine Aquist, Aner Carlstrom, James Cooney and Alfred Moore.

The second group was composed of familiar carols sung by a male quartet: James Cooney, Kenneth Williams, Martin Carlson and Johan Stohl.

The ensemble closed its program with "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head," "Carol of the Russian Children," "Joyous Christmas Song" and "O Holy Night," with James Cooney as soloist.

Warren Basketballers Whip Corry Beavers 36 to 28 for Third Victory in Three Starts

Warren High's basketball squad, chalked up a 36-28 triumph over the Corry Beavers at Beatty gym Friday night, but it took a lot of hard spade work before the Dragons could gain their third win of the 1950-51 campaign.

Scoring in the first, second and fourth stanza was almost even but a third period spurge in which the Massamen outdistanced the Beavers, 14 to 4, paved the way to victory.

The Dragons play their first out-of-town game tomorrow night when they will tangle with Erie Tech in the Lakeshore city. Erie Tech topped a strong Meadville club, 59 to 55, Friday night, indicating another tough battle is in prospect for the Warren crew.

Closeness of Warren-Corry clash, especially during the first half is indicated by the fact that the running tally was knotted five times during the first two periods. Warren led until early in the second frame when the Beavers, coached by Fred Schwab, edged ahead, 13-11. A few minutes later, however, the Blue and White regained the advantage and were never headed.

Game officials Hardenburg and Arnold, both of Jamestown, were calling a close game, and both squads paid heavily for personal fouls. Each team lost three of its starters via the foul route, forcing both coaches to rely heavily on their reserves.

The Dragons had a total of 33 free shots from the foul line, of which they made good only 12. Corry also counted 12 points from the black stripe out of a total of 26 chances. However, a 12 to 8 advantage in the fieldgoal department gave the Dragons their eight-point victory margin.

Pint-sized John Berardi was true hero as far as scoring is concerned for the Dragons. He racked up nine consecutive points for Warren midway in the third stanza to place the Dragons well along the victory train.

Charles Elchynski (No. 47), Corry guard, proved a one-man scoring machine, counting 20 of his team's 28 points. He racked seven of the Beavers' eight fieldgoals and made good seven out of eight free throws.

Dragonettes Top Corry Reserves

Warren Reserve Basketballers notched their third win in three starts Friday night by whipping the Corry JaVeas, 28 to 19, in a preliminary game played at Beatty gym.

First half of the game was fairly even, but in the backstretch, the Dragonettes outpointed the visitors to win going away. Ben Pastrick was the top scorer for the Warren five with 10 points, while Hatch led the Little Beavers with eight units.

Franklin Cagers Beat Style Shop

The Warren Style Shop five was handed a 68 to 53 trouncing at Franklin Saturday night by an aggressive and rough Franklin Elks team. The Warrenites found the going tough because of the pressing tactics of the Franklin team, making it extremely difficult to get the ball over the ten second line.

Berry, Franklin forward, led in the scoring Saturday night, with a high 15 points. Jack Eaton and Ralph Fischer paced the Warren team with 16 and 12 points respectively.

The Haberdashers will seek revenge when they meet the Elks at Beatty gym, Wednesday, December 20. Other games the Stylers are bringing here are the House of David tomorrow night, the All-American Redheads on February third, the Erie Admirals and the Jamestown Boys' Club. The Jamestown Boys' team is the former Jamestown Vikings team that took a 40 point wallop from the Franklin Elks last year, at Franklin.

Y Cage Contests Tonight To Snap 2nd Place Knot

The YMCA City Basketball League tonight schedules the Style Shop against the Ramblers at seven o'clock and the Youngsville Merchants with the New Process at eight.

Tonight's contests should break the league standings out of the four way tie for second place, shared by the Rockets, Ramblers, Youngsville, and the Process.

The fast, sharpshooting Style Shop five are favored over the Ramblers in the first meeting of the two teams. Both teams possess plenty of height, but the scoring combination of the Stylers is a hard one to beat.

New Process and the Youngsville Merchants have each played three games, winning one and losing two. So far this season the Process has scored only two points more in a 126 three-game total to the Merchants 124.

Leading in the league high scoring bracket is the Style Shop's Bob "Stud" Simpson with 25 points in two games, along with Jim Peterson of the Ramblers with the same average in three games and a total of 42 points.

Ford Announces Trucks For 1951

The 1951 Ford F-1 pickup truck and other models in the new Ford truck line feature as optional equipment a new "5-Star Extra" cab for added comfort. An enlarged rear window in all 1951 Ford trucks provides better all-around vision. The steering column gearshift is standard equipment on the F-1 truck. The new cab, with many passenger car features, is sound-proofed with undercoating and roof insulation. Seats, including backs, are adjustable, and cushions have a thick foam rubber pad.

Ford Division has announced new Ford trucks for 1951, including more than 180 models designed to reduce operating costs, make trucks adaptable to more jobs and to add driver convenience and comfort.

L. D. Cruse, vice president and general manager, Ford Division, Ford Motor Company, announced scores of engineering, styling and safety improvements covering the four Ford truck engines, chassis changes and introduction of a new "5-Star Extra" cab.

New Ford trucks feature automatic Power Pilot carburetion-ignition control on all engines. The system provides power with economy by metering and firing the correct amount of fuel at the right instant under varying loads without spark knock.

The cab and front end have been restyled to give a more rugged and smarter appearance. The rear window was designed and enlarged to more than three and one-half feet for full range vision. A new instrument panel incorporates new full-vision instruments, rheostat type instrument light switch and a hand throttle on all conventional models.

Weather sealing on doors is improved, and the floor pan area also is sealed against weather and fumes. Dual windshield wipers are standard equipment and positioned to give a full vision pattern on the one-piece windshield.

A steering column gearshift on F-1 light duty models provides more cab and floor space. Performance of the F-1 truck has been improved by changing the rear axle ratio from 3.73-to-1 to 3.92-to-1.

The standard three-speed transmission for the F-1 has been redesigned for more rugged loads, longer wear and easy shifting. It has constant mesh helical gears with synchronizers in second and third speeds.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

"If there is any person in the town who feels emotion caused by this man's death, show that person to me, Spirit, I beseech you!" cried Scrooge. Whereupon the Spirit of Christmas Yet to Come showed Scrooge the dead man's debtors, who were happy indeed.

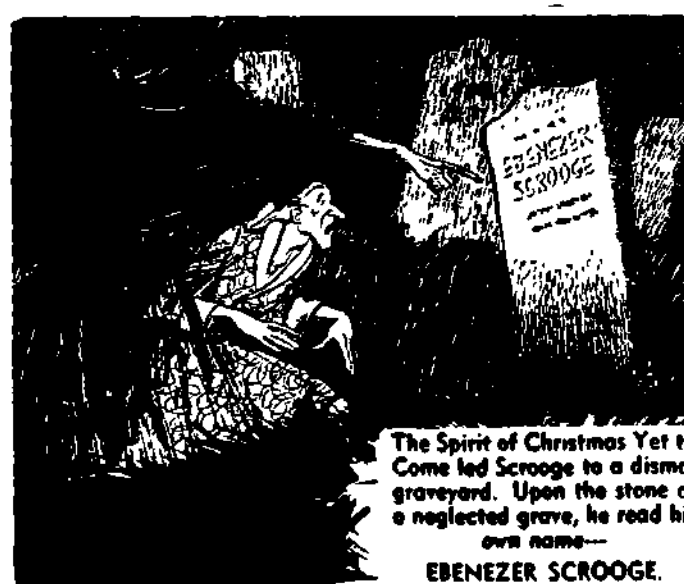

"Let me see... the tenderness connected with a death," said Scrooge. And then he saw the Crotchets' living room, where the family bitterly mourned the death of Tiny Tim.

BY CHARLES DICKENS

"Spectre," quavered Scrooge, "tell me what man that was whom we saw lying dead!"

The Spirit of Christmas Yet to Come led Scrooge to a dismal graveyard. Upon the stone of a neglected grave, he read his own name—EBENEZER SCROOGE.

Scrooge asked the Spirit if he could change these prophecies by leading an altered life. The Spirit nodded. Then Scrooge made a mighty vow: "I will honor Christmas in my heart and try to keep it all the year," he swore.

Still praying for another chance, Scrooge found himself in his own bed. The Spirit of Christmas Yet to Come had disappeared.
